

Grand Hights

The Grand Heights project of NREC is located in the 6th of October City and will become one of the new urban communities of the Arab Republic of Egypt. The project covers an area of 3.8 million square meters and is being managed by one of the largest planning and design consulting offices in the world. The project is characterized by the general location and the modern design of the buildings. The villa design allows space and size to suit a large segment of Egyptian and Arab families. In addition to the green areas, the walls and numerous entry gates surrounding the project are designed to provide security and convenient access to the project. The project also includes general services buildings such as medical, educational and commercial centers, sports club, restaurants and a public park which makes the city self-sufficient.
